

Thursday 18th June, year 3, prepositions

Prepositions are words that tell the reader where things are.

They are really useful to help you describe a good setting in your story. For example, in the story:

Below, the sea bubbled and foamed. Above, the full moon glared down.

Task 1: Imagine you are Skess and Landra, sitting, looking and listening.

- What can you see above or below you?
- What might you hear above or below you?

Use the pictures from your previous work to help you.

Start each of your sentences with the preposition Below or Above. Remember to use a comma when you start your sentence with a preposition (or a prepositional phrase like, Above the beach,). Also finish your sentence with a full stop.

Writing Tip

Try and describe the things you see or hear using some adjectives. For example:

Below, the rolling waves crashed over the rocky beach.

Below, _____ .

Above, _____ .

Below the cliffs, _____

Task 2: Write some additional sentences using some of these prepositions or prepositional phrases at the start of your sentence.

In the distance, In front, Behind, For example:

In the distance, they could hear the low rumble of the other trolls, feasting on their hoard of freshly caught fish.
