I can write up my innovated story of The Stone Age Boy.

Please finish up your story by writing section 5. Something must happen in your future life which makes you think your journey was not a dream after all.

Remember you will need to start with a new paragraph.

5. Prospect for further visits, unsolved problems, unfinished business or was it a dream?

The boy starts to think it was all a dream until, when he is older, he sees some cave drawings of himself.

Rory starts to think it is all a dream until, when he is older, he goes on holiday and is amazing at catching coconuts.

Years passed, but I never forgot my friend Sophie. I'm grown up and on holiday with my family in Hawaii. Today, I showed my children how to get coconuts from a palm tree and was surprised at how good I was. If meeting Sophie had all been a dream like my parents said, where did I learn how to catch coconuts like this?

Take a look below at the 6 things I asked for you to include in your writing. Read your whole story and check you have added these features. If you have not, please amend in a different colour. Also look out for any boring adjectives that you may have used and change them to make them more interesting eg big - colossal.
